

BAU 134

In Main Gallery

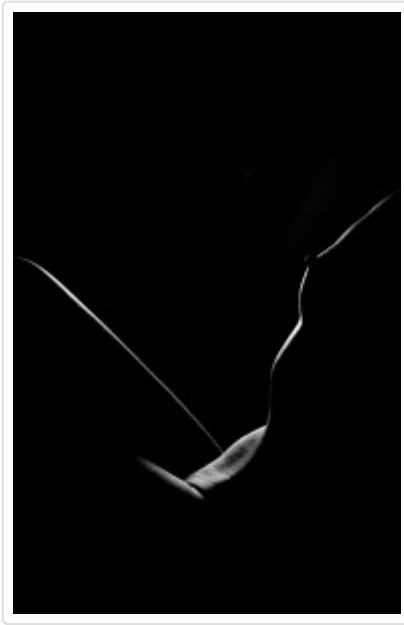

Gary Jacketti: Selections from the Vault Beacon Art Shortwave Gallery

Bau gallery presents "Selections from the Vault," a group show featuring some of the Hudson Valley's best artists. In 2009, Gary Jacketti opened Beacon Art Shortwave Gallery in StoneHarbor, NJ. At the height of the great recession, he took a gamble that the fine artists of the Hudson Valley could find collectors along the gold coast of southern New Jersey. Having just completed his 9th successful season and approaching 1 million dollars in gross sales, Jacketti has introduced the art of the Hudson Valley and beyond to second homeowners and tourists recreating on the Seven Mile Island towns of Avalon and Stone Harbor. The artists included in this exhibition include Karlos Carcamo, Kathy Feighery, Lisa Zukowski, Carla Goldberg, Richard Bruce, Erica Caginalp and Kirsten Lyon. New York artist Dean Yoffredo's sculptures and boxes will grace the front windows.

In the Beacon Room

Meghan Spiro: A Thin Line

An obscured form
Vines woven to reveal ...
The sexuality
Entangled
His, enabled
Hers, twisted to align to this vision

Neglecting her ownA series within a series, A Thin Line is a collection of abstract nudes, originally photographed to use in a composite for another mix media series. This show follows the creative path of this final mixed media piece.

November 6th, 2017 | Category: Archive